PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

I currently provide economic consulting services in tort actions involving personal injury, wrongful death and wrongful termination. Since May of 2005, I have been retained in over 150 cases as a named and unnamed expert. My practice is balanced between plaintiff and defense.

I have over twenty-five years experience as a professional economist in the transportation and telecommunication industries. Past duties included managing staffs ranging from two to seventeen individuals, developing general economic and customer demand forecasts, providing direct and rebuttal testimony in regulatory proceedings, withstanding oral cross examination, conducting technical workshops, and monitoring the discovery process.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Taught graduate and undergraduate economics and statistics courses at the University of Phoenix.

Developed and delivered training seminars dealing with OLS regression analysis, probability and statistics, and the calculus of optimization.

Teaching assistant for an introductory microeconomics course at the University of Missouri for four semesters.
